On July 22, 2024, ENR Mountain States will publish its annual rankings of Top Contractors (General Contractor, Construction Manager and Program manager) doing business in Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Online Survey Instructions:
- All survey questions appear on this page. Provide answers to all the questions on this page and click on the 'Next' button to go to the next page where you will be asked to confirm that you wish to submit your survey.
- 'Regional' means within Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming. 'Worldwide' means your entire firm across the world, including the United States.
- You will not be able to continue to the next page if validation errors are indicated. View details of any validation error by bringing your mouse over the shaded area in the question where an error is indicated. Check for accuracy and completeness of your answers before proceeding to the next page
- Inputted responses may not always be saved if you close the browser before submitting your survey. We advise you to complete the survey in one session.
- If more than one survey is received from a firm for a particular region, only the most recently submitted survey will be used for that region's Top Contractors ranking.

IMPORTANT NOTE: The ENR Top 400 Contractors and Top 500 Design Firms national lists each have a separate survey. For these national surveys, please contact Jonathan Keller at kellerj@enr.com

Ranking Criteria:
- Firms will be ranked based on total construction revenue from projects in Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming during the Calendar or Fiscal Year 2023.
- 'Regional' means within Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming. 'Worldwide' means your entire firm across the world, including the United States.
- Report only your firm's share of construction revenue from projects, NOT total construction revenue generated for all parties to a project. Your total construction revenue should not exceed that reported on a 10K or similar financial report.
- Construction revenue should include revenue from general contracting, construction management at risk, design-build, construction management for fee only, and program management. Include only the construction portion of design-build activities.
- The revenue/total construction cost fields in questions on 'worldwide revenue', 'regional revenue breakdown by divisions', 'regional green construction revenue', 'total construction cost for largest regional project completed in 2023' and 'total construction cost for largest regional project that broke ground in 2023' are not required but will be used for ranking at the editor's discretion if applicable.

Exclude the following:
- Exclude revenue from Single-family Residences

Q7. What is your Regional Green Construction Revenue in 2023? (Note: Regional Green Construction Revenue cannot exceed your Regional Total)

Notes for reporting Regional Green Construction Revenue:
- Ranking will be based on any 2023 revenue from projects within Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming that have been registered with third-party green building or sustainable construction ratings organization.
- Any 2023 regional green revenue from projects that are officially registered with a third-party rating group may be included, even though the project has not been certified. Even if the registered project may never achieve certification, the registration will be sufficient to show intent to design toward a recognized set of green standards.
- Projects that are not registered and being built specifically with certification as a goal should not be included, even where the contractor applies its own set of green construction standards, no matter how stringent. We wish to avoid subjective application of the term 'green building' to projects and revenue.
- This includes only the company revenue generated in 2023 from these projects and not the value of the entire project when completed.

$_____ Regional Green Construction Revenue (Note: This cannot exceed your Regional Total)

Q8.
